Sydney — also commonly known as the Steel City is Nova Scotia's third largest city and acts as a major industrial hub for the rest of Atlantic Canada. Located on the shores of the vast Sydney harbor, Sydney is a popular stopover point for cruise ships. This historic community is a mainstay of the legendary Cape Breton region, and boasts several buildings and landmarks that date as far back as 1786. Strolling along the Oceanfront Esplanade will lead visitors to numerous statues and plaques that celebrate Sydney's rich cultural heritage. Sydney River is just south of central Sydney and is a rich and vibrant shopping district.

As with many Nova Scotian communities on the ocean, the heart of Sydney is its waterfront. On a warm summer afternoon it's a great place to go for a walk and to watch ships in the harbor. Along the way, be sure to get your photo taken beside the world's largest fiddle, built in recognition of Cape Breton's musical talent.

DID YOU KNOW?

Sydney is the historic capital of Cape Breton and largest urban center on the island. The harbor front boardwalk is complete with buskers and visiting cruise ships to the world's largest fiddle.

DID YOU KNOW?

Sydney is situated on an excellent harbor in the heart of an extensive coal-mining region.

DID YOU KNOW?

The name Nova Scotia is Latin for "New Scotland," reflecting the origins of some of the early settlers.

By the early 20th century Sydney became home to one of the world's largest steel plants, fed by the numerous coal mines in the area.
